Who we are

Mastercharge was founded with the aim to revolutionise wireless charging for complete charging convenience. Drawing on an extensive tech background, founder Daniel Jenkins aimed to meet the discerning standards of luxury clientele. Our mission centres on two key objectives: introducing innovative charging solutions to combat the alarming 50 million tons of electronic waste annually and providing not only a better way to charge, but also a sustainable alternative. Unlike competitors' planned obsolescence strategies, we prioritise durability. Our product range epitomises this ethos.

Over a decade, we diversified, introducing tailored projects, branded power banks, and self-serve charging solutions. Our technology now permeates various sectors such as hospitality, leisure, education, retail, kitchen, and the super yacht market. Our trajectory underscores a steadfast commitment to innovation, sustainability, and catering to the evolving needs of consumers across industries.

Daniel Jenkins | Founder & CEO

Our mission is to revolutionise the way people charge, keeping them connected and free from battery anxiety. We strive to bring seamless, stylish, and convenient charging solutions to the forefront, shaping the future of charging.

Paul Guest | Co-founder

We are redesigning the way we charge electronics to ensure a greener, cable-free future. Reducing both ecological impact, and creating cleaner work and living environments for improved mental health.

Worktop Fabrication

Prepping for our invisible chargers couldn't be simpler.

Whilst current trends are for thinner worktop materials, fabrication is often required for thicker substrates. We have worked with key WFF members to ensure integrity and worktop warranty stipulations are adhered to. Apertures are created in the desired charge locations using specialist CNC machinery and created at the time of templating the worktops to the project in hand. Embedding Mastercharge solutions also ensures of a flush finish to the underside where it is necessary.

Mastercharge Approved Installer Network

FABRICATOR APPROVED

Having worked with fabricators, installers, joinery companies, shop fitters and many other trades, we have developed our approved installer network. Get in touch if you need install support for your project.

Commercial Furniture

Bring exceptional charging functionality and reduce clutter to elevate commercial spaces of all types.

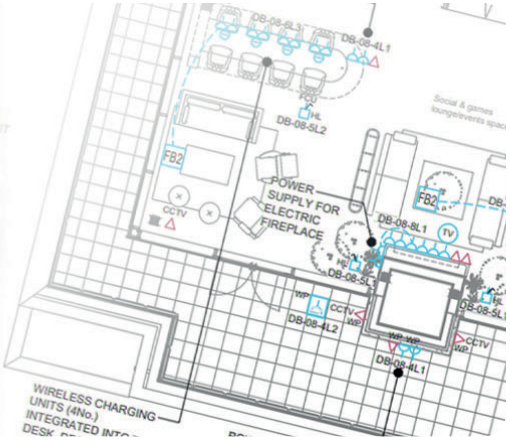

Mastercharge has been entrusted in the specification and design of commercial furnishings, with our hidden wireless charger, by world leading brands in interior space design and cutting-edge joinery companies. Working with our specification team to integrate our award-winning solutions can bring a charging solution to the table like no other.
